U. S. CATHOLIC MISSION ASSOCIATION

UNITED STATES CATHOLIC MISSION ASSOCIATION

PURPOSE AND SPIRIT

The USCMA is a voluntary community of people for whom the missionary presence of the Church in the world is of central importance. The Association invites all the baptized: bishops, laity, clerics, and religious, to join together in a common apostolic commitment to the cross-cultural mission of the Universal Church, in order that the Gospel might become, in every place, a living reality, and that the modern world might be shaped for God's reign of justice and love.

As a prophetic community of mutual service, the USCMA seeks to foster an openness to the on-going revelation present among the peoples of the earth. USCMA Associates seek to challenge and to support one another, in a constantly evolving understanding of present-day mission trends. The various ministries and experiences among the people of God, often the poor, affirm a reality which urges Associates to become the voice of the voiceless, and, in a world of profound materialism, to cherish within the heart a love of preference for the poor, to which much of the missionary Church has pledged itself.

As a servant community which takes its Baptismal Commitment seriously, the Association seeks to promote equality among its members in the missionary endeavor, mindful of the rich diversity of gifts, talents and ministries which the members possess. Likewise, the USCMA will collaborate with people of good will who share in the work of justice, peace, and human development, as these relate to cross-cultural mission. The spirit of the USCMA is a spirit of mutual service; the style of decision-making is consensual and collegial.

In general, the USCMA, working together with those who are interested in mission, serves its membership as motivator, animator, and catalyst, by presenting the latest developments in mission theology and methodology and keeping abreast of world-wide trends that would affect the future of mission.

HISTORY

The U.S. Catholic Mission Association was approved in its present mode at the Annual Assembly of the Board of Directors, in May 1982. It is linked historically to the Mission Secretariat, which served mission-sending groups for over twenty years, and to the U.S. Catholic Mission Council, which functioned for some 12 years, until September 1981. The Mission Association is different inasmuch as it is open to individuals and to networks as well as to organizations: it is open to all who aspire to further the global mission of the Church in community with others and in a spirit of service and equality.

The Association serves as one of the focal points for global mission in the U.S. Church. For people who are interested in and involved with mission, it provides a forum around which they can gather their concerns and needs. It provides a unifying locus for the sharing of ideas, of emerging trends, and of new developments in mission. It fosters the preparation of missioners under all aspects, and it promotes programs of re-entry for missionaries on furlough. It provides a dimension of international social justice which is missing in many programs of education for mission. It stimulates new modes of mission, such as reverse mission, mutuality of mission, and ecumenical mission. Finally, it fosters dialogue among all the forces in mission on how best to serve the U.S. Church, in order to help it become more universal and more open to the rest of the Churches and of the world.

MEMBERSHIP

Membership in the USCMA is open to individuals, groups, and organizations that are committed to the purpose of the Association. All members are equal, and every effort is made by the Association to exemplify the function of the equality of members. Membership is signified by dues, which will vary according to the ability to contribute. The organization depends heavily upon its sustaining members, those who contribute one thousand dollars or more; but all members are expected to contribute ideas, skills, and time for furthering the common goals.

At the present time, USCMA has over four hundred members, who come from all the major mission-sending institutes in the United States.

Although USCMA is an organization of the Catholic Church in the United States, it is open to those beyond our borders, both geographically and confessionally. The members can expect, in return, to find in the Mission Association a place for interaction with others of like concerns and a forum for sharing of ideas. These benefits will be derived especially from the Annual Meeting of all members of the Association. Also, the members will be kept informed on developments in mission theory and practice, and in turn, will have a place to present problems and ideas, as well as to gain fresh insights from the rich resources of the corporate mission community which forms the membership. From time to time, there will be a special meeting of groups within the Association concerning topics important to their concerns. In March 1983 a National Mission Congress was sponsored by the Association, which had as its purpose to reach beyond the membership and serve as a source of animation for the wider Church.

ORGANIZATION

The Board of Directors of the U.S. Catholic Mission Association is composed of not fewer than seven and not more than fifteen members, elected by the membership at their Annual Meeting. Their function is to serve the Association for a period of three years. The Board meets at least twice every year. Officers of the Association are the President, the Vice-President, and the Secretary-Treasurer, who are elected by and from the Board of Directors for a period of two years.

The Executive Committee is composed of the President and Vice-President of the Mission Association plus two at-large Directors chosen by the Board, whose function is to implement the business of the Association between Board Meetings.

Standing and Ad Hoc Committees also serve the various needs of the Mission Association. The members can be chosen from and/or outside the membership.

An Annual Meeting of the Mission Association membership is envisioned which, in its educational component, will be open to all; and in its business component, will be open to the actual members of the Association.

ACTIVITIES

General activities of the Mission Association are typical of organizations of its kind. Special activities at the present time include the following:

Programs

Washington Mission Seminars. Two-week seminars are held twice a year for both missioners on furlough and new missioners. Mutual sharing, theological and pastoral renewal, and reanimation for mission work are provided.

Catholics in America Concerned with China (CACC). CACC is a loose coalition of individuals and representatives of religious congregations with expertise, interest, and openness regarding contemporary China. CACC is a point of contact in North America for China Catholic relations. It is a vehicle for sharing information and reflection about China, particularly events of the Catholic Church in China, with North American audiences.

International Justice Network (IJN). The IJN is a group of men and women committed to serving as a conduit for the voices of Third World people in their struggle for justice and peace. It encourages and promotes responses from the membership and from their constituencies to short and long term situations of injustice.

Consultations. The Association brings together representatives of mission-sending groups and agencies to confer on the experiences of American missionaries in various countries and activities abroad, with their implications for the U.S. Church.

Seminars and Meetings. The Association sponsors or co-sponsors seminars and meetings on current topics relating to the mission of the Church.

Ecumenism. The USCMA works very closely with the Mission Coordinators of the other Christian Churches and is also in contact with various other non-Catholic groups and organizations, in order to seek a common ground for doing mission.

PUBLICATIONS

Mission Intercom. A newsletter published ten times a year, containing items of mission interest gleaned from a broad spectrum of publications and other sources of information.

Mission Handbook. An annual publication containing statistics drawn from the Association's data bank of U.S. Catholic personnel doing missionary work abroad.

Mission Institutes. An annual compilation of available workshops and seminars of interest to new or furloughed missioners, ecumenical in scope.

Movies for Mission Animation. A flier on films pertaining to the missionary nature of the Church for use in schools, CCD programs, and adult education.

PART II

U. S. CATHOLIC MISSION INVENTORY

GUIDELINES TO PRESENTATION

The following 1987 tabulation of the United States Catholic missionaries serving abroad has been compiled by the U.S. Catholic Mission Association from data gathered from many sources. For each of the missionaries listed in these tables, the Association has obtained a data-form of basic information. The tables have been compiled from these individual forms, and not from totals given by mission-sending groups, or home dioceses, or mission fields. They are, therefore, as reliable as the most diligent effort can make them and as the constant changes in personnel will allow. Some comment, however, on each of the terms in the title of these tables is necessary.

The tables list only U.S. missionaries, which means those who are, or have been United States citizens by birth or naturalization. Those who have taken out citizenship in their country of mission service are still listed here as missionaries from the United States. On the other hand, citizens of other countries serving as members of mission-sending groups headquartered in the U.S., are not listed. As an example, there are numerous Maryknoll sisters serving abroad, often in countries other than their homeland who are not U.S. citizens and therefore are not listed here among the Maryknoll sisters serving as U.S. Catholic missionaries abroad. This policy helps to prevent overlapping when the various national mission councils publish their tabulations. It must be remembered, however, that mission-sending groups which, in the tables, appear to have only very few members in a given mission field, may have many more who are not of U.S. citizenship.

The tables bear the heading U.S. Catholic missionaries. This includes all those Catholics who are sponsored by Catholic mission-sending agencies, even if they work for projects not sponsored by the Catholic Church.

The term missionaries is used in its generally accepted sense; it includes not only those engaged in the primary and subsequent stages of evangelization, but also those in the closely related areas of community service and development.

The term serving ordinarily stands for service over a long period of years, or for life. While on the other hand, some groups, particularly many groups of lay volunteers, provide short-term service, only those are included in these statistics who serve for a minimum of one year.

The term abroad means "outside of the 48 contiguous States." The tabulation does not include, therefore, the hundreds of "home missioners" working in sections of our country in situations comparable to any that could be found in other lands. In general, the list of "mission countries" is that followed in two decades of such data-gathering by the former Mission Secretariat and the National Office of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith.
